

Use of Cookies

Croydon Astronomical Society

Cookie Policy

This site uses Google Analytics so that we can gather basic information about the number of visitors, which articles are of most interest, and which countries visitors come from. This information is important to us so that we can ensure interesting content is posted.

Cookies are small text files stored on your computer by your browser. They are used for many things such as remembering whether you have visited our site before and to help us work out how many new website visitors we get each month. They contain information about the use of your computer but do not include any personal information about you (they do not store your name, for instance). By accessing the Croydon Astronomical Society website, you agree that this Cookie Policy will apply whenever you access this website on any device.

If you wish to restrict or block web browser cookies which are set on your device then you can do this through your browser settings. If you continue to view this site without changing your settings we assume you are happy to receive cookies.

Our use of cookies

We may collect information automatically when you visit this website, using cookies.

- These cookies allow us to identify your computer and find out details about your last visit.
- You can choose not to allow cookies but we can't guarantee that your experience with this website will be as good as if you do allow cookies.
- The information collected by cookies and processed by us will not identify you personally; it includes only general information about your computer settings, your connection to the Internet e.g. operating system and platform, IP address, your browsing patterns and timings of browsing on this website and the location of your connecting exchange.
- Most internet browsers accept cookies automatically, but if you wish not to accept cookies you can change the settings of your browser to erase cookies or prevent automatic acceptance.

Third-party service cookies

Social sharing, video and other services (e.g. YouTube) may be linked to articles run by other companies. These companies may place cookies on your computer when you use them on our website or if you are already logged in to them. These cookies are also covered by our implied use policy, but for more information please visit the relevant service provider's website.
